Course Evaluations

Instructions

To help make the course evaluation process more convenient and ensure student privacy, students can now submit secure, anonymous course evaluations online via LiveText. Student course evaluations are central to the continuous improvement of the curriculum and quality of instruction at Hebrew Theological College. We recognize how much you value the information from the forms and have implemented this electronic form to ensure timely feedback. After the grades are turned in, the course evaluations will be compiled electronically and a summary report will be submitted simultaneously to you, the Department Chair, and the Dean. This method allows students to thoughtfully complete the evaluations at a time and place that is convenient for them. They can access the evaluation form from any computer or electronic device. You can view the form at http://bit.ly/2blbBY9.

We ask that you set aside time during the final weeks of the semester, preferably two to three sessions before the final class, to allow students to complete the course evaluations. Students can complete the forms on any electronic device with Internet access. You can also bring them to the computer lab to complete the forms. Please discuss the importance of completing the course evaluations with your students and the value of thoughtful feedback. I truly appreciate your support in ensuring our students use this form. With your help, you will receive your evaluations soon after the end of the semester, which will help us grow as an institution and educators.
